

Contents

Special Issue: Foucault Before the Collège de France

Foucault Before the Collège de France Stuart Elden, Orazio Irrera and Daniele Lorenzini	3
Did Foucault Find a ‘Way Out’ of Hegel? Pierre Macherey	19
Foucault and the History of Anthropology: Man, before the ‘Death of Man’ Arianna Sforzini	37
Michel Foucault in the 1950s: Beyond Psychology towards Radical Ontology Philippe Sabot	57
Foucault’s Critique of the Human Sciences in the 1950s: Between Psychology and Philosophy Elisabetta Basso	71
Foucault as Translator of Binswanger and von Weizsäcker Stuart Elden	91
Foucault in Hamburg: Notes on a One-Year Stay, 1959–60 Rainer Nicolaysen	117
Philosophical Discourse and Ascetic Practice: On Foucault’s Readings of Descartes’ Meditations Daniele Lorenzini	139
Foucault on Raymond Roussel: The Extralinguistic Outside of Literature Azucena G. Blanco	161
Painting for Fools Catherine M. Soussloff	179
Nietzsche, Ontology, and Foucault’s Critical Project: To Perish from Absolute Knowledge Aner Barzilay	201
Five Modalities of Michel Foucault’s Use of Nietzsche’s Writings (1959–73): Critical, Epistemological, Linguistic, Alethurgic and Political Bernard E. Harcourt	219
Literature and Madness: Madness in the Baroque Theatre and the Theatre of Artaud Michel Foucault	241
Linguistics and Social Sciences Michel Foucault	259
Foucault’s 1960s Lectures on Sexuality Alison Downham Moore and Stuart Elden	279